From Superintendent, Aaron Johnson

This year’s Budget Edition of The Quote brings many reasons to celebrate. At the top of the list is how everyone in our community has pulled together to provide for our children. It was not without challenge and stress but having people willing to work together made all the difference. It reminds me of a famous quote: “There is no power for change greater than a community discovering what it cares about.” For us, our why has always been our children.

Thanks to work by our Board of Education and staff, we conducted an extensive process to develop this year’s budget and propositions. Like in most planning, we always start with our end in mind, and for us that continues to be our district mission and now our Strategic Plan. Both include furthering the comprehensive and robust educational experience our community is proud of while developing the whole child. We are known for Peak Performance, as exemplified by the annual “District Snapshot,” our brag sheet. Statistics such as:

- 8 out of our 10 schools earning Top 20 status from Buffalo Business First
- The Irondequoit High School Class of 2021 graduation rate was 94.5% during the throws of a pandemic; 62.3% of those graduates earned an Advanced Regents diploma
- 89% of that class completed college coursework at IHS
- 15 straight years being named one of “Best Communities for Music Education in America” by NAMM (21 out of the past 23 years, too)
- 10 consecutive years being named a “WISE National Top 100 School for Financial Literacy”
- Voted 2021 “Best Public School” in Rochester by the Democrat and Chronicle’s Community Choice Awards
- This success maintains a 10-year average tax levy increase of 1.93%, which is below the 2.0% tax cap, and a per-pupil spending rate that is the second-lowest in Monroe County (16th out of 17 districts). Statistics like this make our district one of the top values in the area and, as we know, a desired community to raise a family.

Building a comprehensive yet fiscally responsible school budget maintains specific standing criteria like making sure class sizes are at a conducive level and that we uphold all state and federal mandates. For many years, our most considerable state aid revenue, foundation aid, was underfunded. That forced us to deliberate and prioritize what supplies, programs and services would be funded and which would be reduced. Thanks to years of persistent lobbying efforts by many, including our Board of education, NYS committed to fully funding foundation aid last year for a three-year period. Next year

Need to Know: What if the district budget is not approved by voters?

A simple majority vote is required for the proposed budget to be approved, as the proposal meets the acceptable tax levy threshold for West Irondequoit with a 2.98% tax levy increase. The Board of Education could propose one more budget for voter approval, or it could elect to adopt a contingency budget. A contingency budget cannot contain a tax levy that is greater than the levy of the previous year.

Like your household finances, annual inflation rates significantly impact our school budget. With the inflation rate rising from 4.7% last year to the current rate and a 40-year high of 8.5% our costs have also jumped. The majority of this year’s tax levy increase of 2.98%, which is within our tax cap calculation, reflects inflation—2.0%, to be exact. Another critical point is that despite the 8.5% inflation rate, next year’s overall proposed budget increases by just 6.39%. Hats off to everyone involved in the problem-solving who helped offer a conservative spending plan that also restores much-needed elements around safety and security, programming, and maintenance.

Also on this year’s ballot are two additional propositions. One would authorize us to acquire the former community center on Pinegrove Avenue adjacent to our Helmer Nature Center. By purchasing this former elementary school building/site, we can maintain the classrooms currently used by the Nature Center and envision future needs like pre-kindergarten classrooms, expanded tutoring services, and an all-purpose STEAM and community education room. This is part of our asset management plan and, if acquired, would prompt the sale of one or more other district assets currently not used for district instruction. The second additional proposition authorizes the district to open a new $20 million capital reserve. Capital reserves must be approved by the community and have specific parameters on how their funds are spent. In this case, the funds must offset the community share of future capital improvement projects. An appropriate savings plan may allow us to complete future repairs and improvements without impacting the tax levy. With inflation so high and identified maintenance and repair needs totaling $33 million, we must plan accordingly.

This year’s spending plan does not include the COVID-19-related federal stimulus funds initiated last year that carry through 2024. Working together with students, families, and staff, we created a multi-year plan to increase social, emotional, and mental health staffing and supports to help students through these unparalleled times. Remember, people make the difference, and in our District our people share one critical value: Our children’s best interests.

They are teachers, secretaries and clerks, maintenance staff, security crew members and food service helpers. More than 80 Irondequoit High School graduates work in the same buildings they grew up learning in and many, like Dake Junior High School Social Studies teacher Aaron Nobles, call it a dream come true.

“I wanted to have the opportunity to give back to this community that gave me so much,” says Nobles, a 2006 IHS graduate who started working here in 2015 and also coaches IHS cross country and track. “I think we have an awesome community here in Irondequoit that sort of sets a foundation for their understanding of the world outside of (it).”

“My biggest thing,” says fourth-year Southlawn teaching assistant and 2012 grad Josh Desilet, “make kids love school the way I did as a kid.”

Many IHS grads who now teach in the West Irondequoit CSD say they were inspired by those who taught them. Nobles credits his 10th-grade global teacher, Jason Harshman. Dake and IHS Technology teacher, Dave Marshall, a 1987 graduate, says Doug Carlson and Dave Whitcomb made an impact on him by using “hands-on” learning.

“I was one of those kids in school that if I didn’t see it, I didn’t touch it, it was hard for me to understand,” says Marshall, a teacher here since 1994. “They made the learning part of it extremely fun. I’m kind of hoping that I can share that same experience with kids.”

Second-year IHS English teacher Ben Bovenzi, 29, says he started to zero in on teaching as a career during his senior year in 2010-11. Now he works in the same department of some of his former teachers such as Megan Langley-Cass, Joe Kunz and Erin Quintero. He says he feels a “real sense of duty ... to uphold, number one, a legacy of outstanding teaching but also, and perhaps more importantly, a duty to uphold the service to the Irondequoit community.”

All three of his older siblings – Lisa (2000), Matt (2002) and Megan (Class of 2007) – are in the education field in Maryland, New York City and Pennsylvania, respectively. “All four of us chose to come to this profession is awesome and it’s awesome because it came from this building, it came from this district and seeing a lot of the great examples of teaching here.”

IHS nurse Mary Piston (1975 grad), elementary teacher Ann Stewart (1981) and IHS cleaner, Carrie Bulger (1988), feel a sense of purpose every time they step in a WICSD building because it’s where their father, Clare Wallace, helped shape young lives for 40 years, starting in the mid-1950s and resuming after he was drafted. Mr. Wallace was a teacher, guidance counselor, elementary principal and IHS vice-principal.

“I can say with confidence that we started and continue to work in West Irondequoit for the exact same reason, to honor our Dad,” says Ann, whose tour of the WICSD has included teaching at Iroquois Middle School for 15 years, one year at Listwood and now third grade at Southlawn.

Piston, who started with the district in 1992, plans to retire in June. “I always wanted to be the nurse at the high school,” she says wistfully.

IHS physical education teacher and 1997 graduate Kelly Moroni loves what she does. “I love working with all different ability levels and ages,” says Moroni, who is also a Unified Sports coach.

Art teacher and K-12 Art Coordinator, Sue Jacobs, has taught here for 25 years. She values being a member of the community now as an adult. She lives here again after being away for about 20 years. She takes great joy in seeing former students become art teachers and nurses as well as her neighbors and “in some cases just genuine friends.”

¹ The basic school tax relief (STAR) exemption is authorized by section 425 of the Real Property Tax Law.
The Irondequoit High School DECA Club continues to thrive under the direction of teachers Lou DiCesare, Jeanine Lent and LaVon Bucciarelli as one of the district’s top programs. Mr. DiCesare, who formerly worked in business/marketing before coming to IHS in 1995, relaunched the IHS DECA Club in 2001. Check out the list of honors and awards below.

Award-winning IHS students, teachers are all ‘business’

The 2022-23 budget objectives:

- Balance enrollment changes at grade levels to maintain class sizes
- Continue to follow Special Education mandates
- Align our curriculum and instruction resources as stated in the Strategic Plan
- Restore elements of the budget that had been reduced in the past
- Maintain a sustainable 5-Year Financial Plan while staying within the Tax Levy Cap.

The continued restoration of Foundation Aid and its promise to provide a predictable and sustained revenue source for the District has allowed for the restoration of budget elements that had been eliminated in past budgets. For the operations and security the 2022-23 budget includes a Director of Safety and Security as well as one additional grounds equipment operator and maintenance mechanic. The inclusion of these three important positions will enhance the safety of our district and ensure that our buildings and grounds remain in top condition. The budget also includes funds for the addition of up to three special educators for our ICT program at 7-12 to meet student need and ensure compliance with special education mandates.

The budget also includes $100,000 for a Capital Outlay Exclusion Project (COEP) to improve physical security at Rogers/Southlawn Middle School. The proposed project will incorporate a teller style window between the main office and the secured vestibule. This window and associated office reconfiguration will allow for enhanced screening of visitors in a more controlled setting. We will receive more than $80,000 in state aid on this project, for the following budget year.

From the latest updates to videos and photo galleries, we are active on Facebook and Twitter to show you what is happening in our buildings and beyond. Our YouTube channel has more than 500 videos and 1,900 subscribers. Our Transportation Page now allows you to do more digitally. Please visit the District website – www.westirondequoit.org – for the latest news. For more details, please read below.

Receive/submit transportation details online!
Parents/guardians can now submit ALL transportation forms/applications on our District site or print them from there. Find the TRANSPORTATION “Quick Link” on the main page. Families must have an Infinite Campus account (see below) to obtain transportation information, such as bus passes, route times and bus numbers. Those items are no longer mailed home.

Infinite Campus Parent/Student Portal
Infinite Campus is our student management system. Parents/guardians of all students can create an account that allows them to view schedules, attendance, report cards and teacher/transportation information. High school and junior-high students have accounts to view their own information. Login credentials are available from school main offices; parents must present ID to obtain them. If you registered in a previous year, your account stays active, and only one account is necessary for families with multiple children enrolled.

Broadcast Call System
Our Blackboard Mass Notification system allows us to contact families via phone/email/text message when we need to communicate information immediately. Phone numbers are pulled from Infinite Campus using a secure system. Be sure that your child’s school secretary has your most up-to-date phone and email information. The system will leave a voicemail message if you do not answer the call.

The designation comes from the National Association of Music Merchants Foundation. Now in its 23rd year, the BCME honor is bestowed on districts that demonstrate outstanding achievement in efforts to provide music access and education to all students. To qualify for the award, West Irondequoit answered detailed questions about funding, graduation requirements, music class participation, instruction time, facilities, support for the music program and community music-making programs.

“We do have this multi-generational connection. There’s something that brings people back here, whether they intend it or not,” Jacobs says. “It’s a great place to be.”

Desilet, 27, knew what he wanted to do upon graduation. In fact, his Superlative in the 2012 IHS yearbook was: “Most Likely To Be a Teacher at IHS.” Iroquois sixth-grade teacher Amy Taberski thought she’d travel after college – not teach. But she started as a substitute teacher, then a long-term sub and “before I knew it I was living here, working here and I had three children who attended school here.” Twenty-five years, she says she couldn’t have planned a better career in a better place.

And that travel thing? “It’ll be there when I retire, and I’ll have more money to do it!”
